

Press Release

Managed Services Platform Connects SMBs to Independent Consultants

Pittsburgh, PA, October 26, 2016 — Project Execution Network, a Pittsburgh based startup, has introduced the consulting industry's first cloud-based, automated IT and business services platform. The platform was built to connect small and midsize businesses with the region's growing community of experienced independent consultants.

Project Execution Network's platform combines consulting and managed services portals, an online marketplace, a 24/7 network operations center, an analytics toolkit and a professional services automation system.

Project Execution Network re-engineered the consulting business process by combining advanced analytics, cloud-based technologies and experienced independent resources. The result enables SMBs to achieve strategic clarity and precise execution with 30% less cost, time and complexity vs. legacy consulting methods — on demand.

SMBs can acquire the services of individual resources, project teams and complete functional departments, whenever or wherever needed. The scope of professional services offered by Project Execution Network includes information technology, strategy development, business planning, digital marketing, sales enablement, operations, human capital management and financial analysis.

The cornerstone of the company's platform is the IT Department-as-a-Service™ solution, which integrates a 24/7 network operations center, help desk, assessment and planning capabilities, collaboration tools, training center and document management system. Network operations capabilities include 24/7 desktop, server, mobile device, security, and backup/disaster recovery services. The complete family of Department-as-a-Service™ solutions include IT, digital marketing, sales enablement and human capital management.

About Project Execution Network LLC:

Project Execution Network combines advanced analytics, a cloud-based consulting technology platform and experienced, on-demand independent talent to help small and midsize businesses achieve their objectives for growth and profitability. Our data-driven process can help clients execute high performance across all major business functions ... from business, marketing and sales to operations, human capital management and information technology.

For more information about Project Execution Network's Managed Service Solutions, call, write or visit us online at <http://projectexecution.com>.

Contact:

Amber Alke
Project Execution Network
2009 Mackenzie Way, Suite 100
Cranberry Twp, PA 16066
Email: amber.alke@projectexecution.com
Tel: 724-720-9435

###